[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 25.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, June 23.

In the House, Butler reported the Georgia bill from the Reconstruction Committee, with a substitute, being the same as the Texas bill, with the simple addition of giving those four States the right to organize militia.

Davis offered a substitute recognizing the fact that Georgia had ratified the amendments to the constitution, and was entitled to representation, and to authorize her to organize militia in her defense.

Cessna offered a substitute declaring the State entitled to representation in Congress. Various amendments were offered, and, with the bill and substitute, were ordered printed, and it was agreed that the previous question should be seconded at 2 o'clock to-morrow. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—In the Senate, the tax and tariff bill was up. After debate the Senate by a vote of 34 to 24 struck out all sections containing income tax.

In the House the Georgia bill was discussed, amended and finally passed as follows: Section 1—That the State of Georgia having complied with the requirements of the reconstruction acts and the 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution having been ratified in good faith by a legal legislature of said State, is entitled to representation. Nothing in this act shall be construed to deprive the people of Georgia of the right to an election for members of the General Assembly as provided for by the Constitution of said State. Section 2—That so much of the act making appropriations for the support of the army for year ending June 30th, 1868 as prohibits the organization and arming or calling into service of militia forces of the States of Georgia, Mississippi, Texas and Virginia, is hereby repealed.

The Senate, at the evening session, took up House bill to revise the amendments to the patent right law. Amended and passed.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Some Senators are endeavoring to prevent the admission of Governor Stevenson, from Kentucky, into the Senate in the place of McCreery, next month. Charges are already filed with the Radical Western Senators, which, if they prove well founded, will render his admission doubtful. One charge is that he was in Richmond at the commencement of the war and reported as on the rebel side at Bull Run.

The President yesterday signed the bill creating a department of justice. This takes from the Treasury, State and Navy departments the solicitors, clerks and employees of their offices, as also those of the Revenue Bureau, and places them under the Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—A special says the amendment offered by Dawes yesterday, to the Georgia bill, is supposed to represent the views of the President.

The completion of the Falmouth, Gibraltar and Malta Cable is an occasion of congratulatory dispatches between the Viceroy of India and President Grant. The former's message is dated at Bombay on evening of the 23d, and reached the President at 10 30 A. M.

The customs receipts for last week were $3,267,543.

The Senate confirmed Col. Ackerman, of Georgia, as Attorney General. He arrived to-night and had an interview with the President. The Judiciary Committee reported favorably in his case, and he was confirmed without objection.

The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the payment of the July interest on and after the 28th of June.

The commission of Attorney General Ackerman will not be issued for several days. His friends believe he will not qualify for a month. Hoar will remain meanwhile to clear up unfinished business.

The President has approved the resolution relative to trade with the British North American Provinces.

Political News.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 23.—The Republican Congressional Convention of the Fifth District has nominated John Coburn for re-election.

PIQUA, O., June 23.—The Democratic Congressional Convention of the Fourth District, nominated J. F. McKinney.

OTTAWA, June 23.—The negotiations between the British Columbia delegates and the Committee of Privy Council will be concluded to-morrow. It is understood that a satisfactory result will be obtained.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 23.—The Democratic Convention to-day nominated M. C. Kerr, also, a full judicial ticket.

PHILADELPHIA, June 24.—Gen. W. B. Thomas was nominated for Congress to-night by citizens of the 4th District, irrespective of party, in opposition to Judge W. D. Kelley.

BOSTON, June 23.—The Legislature adjourned after a session of 172 days. The Hartford and Erie State aid and 8 hour law bills were killed.

The Vermont Republican State Convention yesterday nominated John W. Steward for Governor, and John A. Page for Treasurer.

New York News.

NEW YORK, June 24.—Eleven persons were prostrated by the heat to-day. None fatally.

The Senate has passed the House militia bill by a vote of 13 to 5. On a previous vote 13 Senators bolted and were brought in by the Sergeant at arms and five of them declined to make a quorum when the bill passed. Much indignation is expressed at the bill and the manner of its passage.

The bill giving the Governor power to appoint all civil officers, and another to organize a State police, to be appointed by the Governor, will doubtless pass in a few days.

NEW YORK, June 23.—At a meeting of the Liberal Club last evening Mr. Ammond read a paper on mining in Nevada. He claimed that the Comstock ledge was nearly worked out and that the Sutro Tunnel would not pay. Sutro and Capt. Dahlgren both replied, showing reasons why the tunnel would be successful.

Explosion of Nitro Glycerine.

WORCESTER, Mass., June 25.—An explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred to-day killing Timothy Cronan, aged 22, and injuring thirty other persons, none badly. Two houses were demolished and many badly shattered. The shock was felt over the whole city. Bells were rung, and crockery and furniture broken a half a mile distant. The explosive material had been smuggled into a car and addressed to North Adams and intended for the Hoosac Tunnel.

Cholera at Havana.

HAVANA, June 23.—A number of cases of Asiatic cholera have occurred here within a few days, a large percentage being fatal. The civil government is taking precautions to prevent the spread of the disease. The small pox is unabated. The cholera of virulent type is prevailing in many other places.

Hot Weather—Washington News.

CHICAGO, June 24.—The weather grows hotter daily. There were several cases of sunstroke yesterday—one fatal.

CHICAGO, June 25.—Six cases of sunstroke yesterday—one fatal.

A Washington special gives a synopsis of the majority and minority reports of the San Domingo Investigation Committee, the former completely exonerating General Babcock from all charges made against him, and the minority report is very sharp and decisive in language, with Garrett's statement that the charges of Hatch against Babcock have been substantiated.

WASHINGTON, June 25.—But for the fact that there will be a large payment of navy and war pensions and the closing up of balances, ending with the fiscal year there would be a larger reduction of the public debt than has been exhibited during any previous month since the advent of the present administration. Reports from the internal revenue bureaus and other sources, are considerably in excess of the estimates of the Secretary of the Navy and Commissioner of Internal Revenue. This fact has induced several Senators to urge a reduction of taxation and duties to the extent of one hundred millions. In the event of this large figure, it is believed there would be considerable in excess of the revenue and sufficient for a sinking fund.

Casualties.

PHILADELPHIA, June 25.—An explosion occurred early this morning in the store of Busick, on the wharf. The building was filled with fireworks, and in a few minutes the entire establishment was destroyed. A boy, walking along, was hurled a great distance. His eyes were destroyed, and it is feared he is fatally injured. Charles Rhodes, fireman, who entered the building with hose, was terribly injured by a second explosion and has since died. Several other firemen were slightly injured. The explosion is attributed to spontaneous combustion.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 25.—There was a fatal case of sunstroke here yesterday.

BY THE CABLES.

LONDON, June 23.—Six survivors of the ship Hercules, from San Francisco, lost off the Brazilian coast, have been brought here. They were rescued from a desert island upon which they remained fifty days.

MADRID, June 25.—Ex-Queen Isabella, of Spain, will sign her solemn abdication to-day. Marshal Bazaine and other important persons will be present as witnesses.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—The Forward, which carried the filibusters to Guaymas, was fitted out here three months since. She is the old British gunboat Forward, sold at Esquimalt last season. It was known that she had on board a quantity of thick iron plates, supposed to be for plating her sides for an attack on Mazatlan or Guaymas, but as she was cleared without a cargo by Schleiden, the shipping agent here, under the Salvador flag, and the filibusters, who it was suspected were going on board her somewhere off this port, were not seen around her, Collector Phelps did not feel authorized to seize her, though urged to do so by Dr. Rivas, Mexican Consul. Vega did not go with the expedition from San Blas, in the vicinity of which place he has been staying for some months, but as usual left his followers to take their chances of being caught and shot, himself keeping out of harm's way. He is known to have an intense hatred against the Mejia family, and those who know him best think young Mejia will certainly be murdered. Vega hates the Americans intensely, and his present profession of friendship is regarded as made merely to humbug them into aiding his schemes for personal aggrandizement.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Particulars of Placido Vega's plundering raid on Guaymas was received may 28th. The steamer Forward, flying the San Salvador flag, landed 150 men under Col. Fortunio Viscayno four miles from Guaymas at day break, and the filibusters immediately entered the city, taking the authorities wholly by surprise. No troops were there to oppose them, and they took possession of the Custom House, secured two small vessels lying there, and immediately commenced loading 5,000 Government muskets which were in store there. They then demanded and took from the North Pacific Transportation Co. 40 tons of coal, paying for it double price in a draft on the house of N. Ortiz y Hermanos, of Guaymas, payable June 18th, and accepted by them. At 2 o'clock P. M., 29th, Col. Viscayno demanded $25,000 cash or $50,000 in merchandise from the house of Ortiz y Hermanos. As the money was not forthcoming, $11,000 worth of merchandise, mostly consigned to German and English, were taken, the clerk of the house being present at the time. He also demanded and obtained from merchants about $100,000 and the Custom House. At 4 P. M. Government troops arrived from the interior, and Viscayno with his whole force immediately decamped. The Forward towed off the two vessels loaded with stolen goods and other plunder. The Government troops fired some shots at them as they embarked, but without effect. All of the prisoners taken were released except young Mejia, paymaster of the Department and son of the Minister of War and Marine of the Mexican supreme Government. The United States Consul urged his release, but Col. Viscayno replied that he had positive orders to keep him prisoner, but no fears need be entertained for his life. It is supposed they went to La Paz, or some point on the coast of Sinaloa, where they could communicate with Placido Vega, under whose orders they were acting. They only murdered one man during their two days stay in Guaymas.

The Grant chair will be taken East to-day by Judge R. L. Woodworth, for presentation.

Geo. Nelson was caught last night personating an officer, and levying a tax on Chinese women.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Young Mejia, who was carried off from Guaymas by Vega's filibusters, was married but a few weeks since to a daughter of Willard, American Consul at Mazatlan. It is ascertained that Vega has his head quarters at a place called Ville de Bandera, between Mazatlan and San Blas. It is probable his plunder will be landed there, but General Corona is in Durango with a considerable force and can, by forced marches, reach him in a week. It is believed that he will proceed at once against the filibusters.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 25.—Judge Stanley and Judge Lake have appointed Chas. A. Sumner official shorthand reporter for the county and municipal courts.

It is stated that the Hidden Treasure Mining Company has a large reserve of pay ore on hand, and the report that the recent dividend of one dollar and fifty cents was paid from borrowed money, which has been industriously used during the week to bear stock, was unfounded in fact.

Gov. Haight has accepted the invitation of Marshal Casseneau to participate in the celebration of the 4th of July with full staff, and will appear for the first time as commander in-chief of the militia of the State. A company of cavalry is detailed as his special escort.

Levy Westenhover, who fell from the building on which he was at work a day or two since, died from effects of injuries received. One of his legs and one arm were broken and some bones of the neck fractured. He resided on Valencia street.

Five per cent. will be added to the Federal income and license taxes of San Francisco after Wednesday next.

Arrived—Ship Sea Serpent, 130 days from New York, with merchandise to Platt & Newton; bark Nereid, 64 days from Sydney, with coal to Stevens, Baker & Co.

The Eagles beat the Silver Stars for the first championship of the base ball match this afternoon. The Eagles made 34 runs against 16 by the Stars.

Two deputy sheriffs had a lively collision this afternoon in the sheriff's office, one receiving a severe cut in the face from a ring on the hand of the other.

The Hibernian Savings Loan Company has reduced the rates on loans of $3,000 and over to 10 per cent. per annum. Under $3,000 remains at 1 per cent. per month.

The consolidation of the Central and Union Pacific railroads under the name of Central Pacific Railroad Company is officially announced.

It is rumored that a mandamus will be sued out against Gov. Haight to compel him to appoint Police Commissioner under the metropolitan police bill which he vetoed, it being claimed that the legal limit of ten days had been expired by one hour when the veto was sent to the Senate.

Wm. Hockstler has been elected trustee of the estate of Ghiradelli & Co., insolvents, and claims amounting to $260,000 assigned to him.

The first peaches of the season were in market to-day from Putah Creek, Yolo county, and sold at 20 cents per pound.

The court trying the Neaval Diamond murder case adjourned till Tuesday. The testimony for the prosecution is not yet all in. The evidence to-day showed that she had $10,000 worth of real estate which was transferred to him for a nominal consideration.

The State Board of Education met to-day, Gov. Haight presiding, elected Superintendent Whitman C. Hill, of Eldorado county, and Wm. A. Roberson, of San Francisco, to fill vacancies in the Board caused by the expiration of the terms of Hon. A. J. Sweeney and Prof. J. M. Sibley.

The San Francisco Figaro thus opens on one of our representatives abroad: "Minister De Long finds it impossible to live comfortably in Japan on a salary of $7,500 a year. Things must be very expensive in that country. We knew Mr. De Long to live comfortably on a salary of $10 a month and his hash, when he was tending bar for John Atchison, at Foster's Bar, Yuba county."

A very pretty idea children have in Germany of forming themselves into societies for the protection of animals and the preservation of plants. They all agree not to steal birds' eggs or destroy their nests; not to tread on the plants or tear the roots out of the moist, warm earth, and leave them to wither and die; not to beat the cows and horses, or throw stones at the chickens.

SUMMER WANDERINGS.

JUNE 8.—Perhaps it is by contrast that the town of Walla Walla impresses itself so pleasantly upon the vision on first entering it from the direction of Wallula. It does, at all events, surprise the traveler with its aspect of cheerfulness and thrift—with its neat residences and embowering trees, and the general air of comfort and stability which it possesses. A commodious hotel, quite as good as the best in Portland, receives the dust stained inmates of the coach, and the gentlemanly proprietor does his best to furnish them everything needful for their refreshment. I had some letters to prominent citizens of Walla Walla which were duly honored, and I found the people generally hospitable and social in their habits. A week spent in looking about furnished me with many interesting facts concerning that considerable tract of country known as the Walla Walla Valley.

In the first place this valley contains 5,120,000 acres. It is compressed within the boundaries of the Columbia on the west, the Snake river on the north and east, and the Blue mountains on the east and south. The Walla Walla river has a direction nearly due west, falling into the Columbia at Wallula. In fact the Indian significance of Walla Walla is the junction of a smaller with a larger river, and the natives had another name for this river away from the junction. The Walla Walla, as well as its principal tributaries, has its rise in a peak of the Blue range known as the Round mountain. Its nearly straight course forms the base of a semi-circle, of which the Snake river forms the arc. All the streams rising in Round mountain follow the general course of the Snake, and, describing a half circle, fall into the Walla Walla at different points west and southwest of the town of that name. All these streams have rapid currents flowing over gravel bottoms so near the surface of the ground that their waters are easily diverted into other channels for purposes of irrigation. Thus it is that in Walla Walla one finds the swift bright waters of Mill Creek coursing through a hundred tiny channels, laughing and sparkling in and out of everybody's garden, carrying coolness, fertility and music all over the little city.

During my stay in Walla Walla I noticed ample evidences of prosperity of a sure and steady kind. Although, comparatively, times are said to be "hard," there seemed to be more money in circulation than in the Wallamet Valley, and more trade between the farming community and the merchants. The trade, too, with the mines, helps to put money in circulation, while furnishing a certain market and good prices for the products of the farms. The fall trade is sure to be good this year, the season being a good one both for the miner and the farmer.

Fruit growing is going to be, as it already is to some extent, a specialty of Walla Walla farming. This year the peach crop in many localities will be light, owing to an untimely frost; but usually there is an abundance of every variety of fruits common to the temperate zone. Grains grow finely on the same soil; and I had the pleasure of walking through a field when the rye stood seven feet high, with occasional bunches a foot higher. By some strange association of ideas as I walked along, I heard the wonderful birdlike notes of that exquisite but now almost forgotten singer, Jenny Lind, whose rendering of "Coming through the Rye," charmed me to tears of rapture and smiles of mirth, when I was a lassie. How her bird like voice warbled the mirthful question, "If a body kiss a body, need a body cry?"—pronouncing the last word "ky" in the most infantile abnegation of the hard English.

I was unable to learn the population of the Walla Walla valley; the census now being taken will be completed during the summer. The assessment roll shows the number of acres of land cultivated in Walla Walla county (not the whole valley) to be 63,377, and the valuation of property, real and personal, to be $2,550,244, while the rate of taxation amounts to no more than eleven mills on the dollar. There are seven flouring mills in the county and four saw mills.

The general aspect of the Walla Walla valley is that of rolling prairie land. Toward the Blue Mountains the foothills come down in long slopes, offering the most beautiful sites for farms that can be imagined. As a rule the farms of the county are along the streams Mill Creek, Touchet, Dry Creek and Tucanon, and on their tributaries, but there is no reason why farms should not be made away from these streams. Already new settlers are taking homes adds in among the hills and cultivating them with great success.

While in Walla Walla I took a ride out to the scene of the Whitman Mission and massacre. Mr. Eells, one of the members of the early mission in this country, is now residing on the identical spot where the buildings of Dr. Whitman's establishment formerly stood. Having been built of adobe, after the burning of the buildings, the walls dissolved into mounds of clay undistinguishable from the earth around; unless, in thrusting a stick into one of the heaps you came to bits of burnt glass, iron, charcoal, or broken earthenware. Another mound of dry alkali earth, enclosed with a rough board fence, mark the spot where Dr. and Mrs. Whitman and their fellow victims lie buried in one common grave in rude unconfined sepulture. It is a very sorrowful spectacle, and appeals to the sympathy and proper sense of every beholder for a more suitable memorial column than this unsightly mound, unadorned with grass or shrub. The most affecting reminders of wasted effort which remains, are the two or three fruit trees which escaped the general destruction, and the scarlet poppies which are scattered broadcast in the creek bottom near the houses. Sad it is that that flower whose evanescent bloom is the symbol of unending joys should be the only tangible witness left of the womanly tastes and labors of the victims of savage vengeance and superstition.

Mr. Eells now owns the land once occupied by the Mission, and situated on a point of bottom land between the Walla Walla and Mill Creek, near the junction. It is not, at present, aside from its associations, a very interesting spot, and disappointed me by seeming more secluded and circumscribed in the view than I had imagined it. In truth, Mr. Eells tells me my mental impression of the place is more like what it once was than what it now is, for there has grown up along the two streams in the last few years, a considerable belt of trees, which cuts off the prospect beyond to the detriment of the landscape effects.

The Whitman Seminary at Walla Walla, was founded for the purpose of commemorating the services and sufferings of Dr. Whitman. Mr. Eells was, I think he told me, the first to move in this matter, by donating one half of his land claim, i. e., 320 acres, to raise a fund for this purpose. The Seminary was chartered in the winter of 1859 60, and built in 1867 by subscriptions obtained from the people of Walla Walla. Not being able to finish it, Mr. Eells gave his note to creditors to the amount $2,500, which the trustees redeemed by transferring back to him the land first donated. There is a difficulty in getting teachers of sufficient ability to conduct such an institution for the salary which the board feel able to pay; and, therefore, there is no school in progress at present in the Seminary building. Meanwhile efforts are being made to obtain a principal of the right sort and to start the school again.

There are, however, two high schools in Walla Walla, one Protestant and one Catholic; and a Teacher's Institute was this year organized, which holds its first annual meeting at Waitsburg, in June. I observed everywhere throughout the valley more than an ordinary spirit of enterprise in educational matters, a fact which speaks well for the class of inhabitants who are laying the foundations of a wealthy and intelligent community a few years hence. In fact I was surprised by the progress made in this isolated section of country in the brief interval between the opening of the country for settlement (eleven years) and the present. During my visit the completion of the telegraph line was celebrated—just in time to transmit election news per wire.

A branch from the North Pacific Railroad is all that the Walla Wallans need ask for to secure to themselves a brilliant future, and that I think they will get. One thought was continually forced upon my mind in Walla Walla, viz: that western Oregon were profoundly ignorant of the resources and improvements of this more eastern and remote corner of civilization. It is our fashion to grumble because Californians do not understand or appreciate us. With equal propriety the people east of the mountains may complain of our ignorance concerning them, their institutions and resources. One thing is very certain, the Northern Railroad Company, with their policy of settling their employees along the line of their road, is going to bring a great influx of settlers into this fertile and delightful valley; and with the start it has already obtained, we shall have to look to our laurels if we do not have to yield the palm or the bay to our eastern neighbors in point of mental and physical advancement, in material prosperity and intellectual development.

THE WEST.

A widow lady, near Santa Cruz, (Cal.) has received $500 for the strawberries grown on half an acre of ground.

Fraser river has been higher this season than ever before known by white inhabitants. A good deal of damage has been done.

The Seattle paper states that a party of surveyors, fully supplied with surveying instruments, and provisions, are now up Skadgit River on their way to the Pass through the Cascade Mountains, to make a survey for the Northern Pacific Railroad Company.

A Montana paper has this: George B. Foote has made a bar of tin in Helena, from ore found within thirty miles of that place, which yields nearly twenty five per cent of pure tin. The lead is said to be promising. This is the first tin ever produced in Montana.

From the Elko Chronicle we learn that the following amount of treasure passed through Wells, Fargo & Co.'s office at that place during the five days from the 4th to the 8th of June inclusive: From Mountain City, Cope District, $3,000; Idaho, $22,000, White Pine, $21,000—total, $46,000.

At Virginia, Nevada, the Board of Aldermen at their last meeting passed an ordinance to punish all persons who frequent gambling rooms and are known as "check guerrillas," and solicit money or checks used therein to represent money. They may be committed to the city jail for sixty days, or fined in any sum not exceeding $500.

A human body was found floating in the Humboldt river a few days ago near Elko. One ankle was fastened to a stake on the bank, and the face was downward in the water. It is thought to be the body of a Chinaman who was an important witness in a murder case examined before Judge Mayhugh in March, and who mysteriously disappeared.

A Stockton (Cal.) dispatch of June 16th gives this: As the eastward bound train last night was passing the crossing near Mokelumne station, it ran against a man on horseback, throwing the rider on the platform of the engine and carried the horse on the cow catcher a distance of ninety feet, breaking two legs and tearing off one foot. The man whose name is S. B. Music, received a fracture of the skull.

Later advices are received from Cheyenne in regard to a supposed attempt by Indians to capture a passenger train on the Union Pacific Railroad. They go to prove that the affair was a premeditated attack, with a view to capture the express train going East. It occurred between twelve and one o'clock on Tuesday morning, June 14th, at a point near Ogallalla Station, where the train was surrounded by a large party of Indians, well mounted and armed, having in charge a lot of extra ponies, with which they attempted to blockade the track and impede the progress of the train. They fired several shots into the train, none of which took effect. The engineer, by putting on full steam, broke his way through the ponies, killing twenty or thirty of them, and, it is supposed, some of the Indians. The band disappeared in a northerly direction.

Aspects of the Oregon Election

The Sacramento Union in speaking of the Oregon election says

> Whilst it may be true that there was a Republican gain in Oregon this year upon the vote of that party last, and that there is a diminished Democratic majority there is not in either circumstance the least good cause for congratulating the Republican party It has been alleged with such a show of proof as to create belief in many minds, that the leaders of the Republican party of Oregon this year used a large corruption fund to carry railway plundering schemes and secure the Legislature in favor of buckling an immense debt upon the State in the way of subsidies If this is true the whole country should rejoice at the defeat of that party, and none more than honest Republicans

Certainly if it were true the defeat of the Republican party should cause no regret but it is in no respect true The Union has either been misinformed or is unwilling to do the Republican party justice For some time past that paper has had an evident Democratic bias, which is perfectly proper if it suits it to take such a course But it is impossible that a journal at once well informed and desiring to be just should make such statements as those quoted above The only railway plundering scheme that was brought up during the canvass was a scheme in which the enemies of the Republican party were concerned An appeal was made to the people to defeat the Republican party in order that the said scheme might be carried through A large "corruption fund" was furnished by those interested in that scheme to be used against the Republican party but all the effort that was made had little effect on the result. From the beginning to the end of the contest there was no railroad question involved, except that which was introduced during the last week of the canvass by the Humboldt road ring. They made it a special point to carry a plundering railway scheme, and would have been disastrously defeated could another week have intervened before the election The move they made was inspired by the immense railroad monopoly that governs California and Nevada and seeks to govern Oregon Nor is it true that any Republican thought of "buckling an immense debt on the State in the way of subsidies The question of subsidies was not up at all Had it been up nine-tenths of the Republican party would have opposed it The only persons who have wanted subsidies, or who have received them for railroad purposes, are persons whose influence was thrown against the Republican party in the election To convince every one of this fact it is only necessary to refer to the action of the west side railroad managers They have had subsidies, in violation of law and are candidates for more and what influence they could command in the election was used in connection with that of the Humboldt road ring and the Central Pacific Company, against the Republicans As for money, Democrats used quite as much of it in the canvass as Republicans did, and probably a good deal more They spared neither money nor effort, and in many counties they wantonly excluded Republican votes, so as to make sure of a Democratic majority It was the Democratic party here that was allied with all the things the Sacramento Union condemns It was the Democratic party that took up, at the instigation of the Humboldt road ring, a contest in behalf of the Central Pacific railroad company of California and against the interests of Oregon It was the Democratic party that accepted a "large corruption fund to carry a railway plundering scheme," and that in so doing went back on the memorial of their own Legislature and expressed a willingness, in order to gain a temporary political advantage, to cheat Southern Oregon out of a railroad The facts of the late contest are not so old as to be forgotten by the people of Oregon

Wanted, a Railroad.

It appears that the contract with parties at the East for the construction of the west side road is a conditional one The road must be graded by the company here furnished with ties and made ready to receive the rails The contractors will then furnish the rails and rolling stock, and finish the road We repeat that now is the time for the west side managers and those who have been professing to back them, to show that they mean business The people of Portland and the west side counties are waiting to hear from them They made noise enough in a political way before the election, now let us see some evidence of action It is said that fifty thousand dollars and upwards will be required to finish the grading and to furnish the ties for the first twenty miles, so that the Eastern contractors can go on with their part of the work The time has now come for those wealthy men here who have been professing to champion the west side road in the interest of Portland to come out. In the language of sporting circles they can now either "put up or shut up But we hear that there is talk of trying to raise money again by the old method of subscription This is humbug It will never build the road The effect of it will only be to prolong the reign of incompetency which has distinguished hitherto the management of the concern It may suffice to enable Mr Gaston to pay his board and Mr Newby to pay his debts and Mr R [illegible] to obtain real estate but it will never give the people a railroad There are just two ways of doing it Let those men of capital here who have professed so much interest in this road either take hold of it and build it, or cease forever to talk about railroads, or let the company give it up to some man or some company possessing more pluck and enterprise who will build it Portland wants the road All the west side counties want it But the people of those counties have no capital to build it They have already put something into the enterprise But those here most able to take hold of it have been very careful not to put their money in it They have contented themselves with blowing, with getting up electioneering schemes, and with inveighing against the Republican party, against Senator Williams, and against Ben Holladay's road It is time now to change the programme or to throw up the sponge Fine words butter no parsnips Much less does jawbone build railroads If these gentlemen cannot build the road somebody can be found who will There is no occasion for contributions or subscriptions from the people for the purpose All will agree that there has been enough of that The land grant that has been secured will serve as a basis of credit to build the road If they who have been hitherto connected with the project cannot go on with it, it is due to the people and the country that they should step out of the way and make room for somebody who has more business ability and more enterprise There is a demand in Oregon for live, energetic, enterprising men The plain question to be asked is, are the capitalists of Portland who have been making so much stir about this matter and even carrying it into elections are they going to take hold of this road in earnest and build it or must somebody else build it? Now is the time and now the opportunity Messrs Ladd Ainsworth Thompson Carter and others, will you push ahead?

This from the Albany Democrat "The people of Portland appear to be disturbed with a new development showing that Holladay [illegible] the [illegible] up [illegible] on the east side of the [illegible] Oh ! The people of Portland are not disturbed at all A few persons of little penetration and narrow views may pretend there is danger, but those who have discernment enough to know a [illegible] are not alarmed at all "And besides, have we not the great mighty puissant and enterprising west side company, headed by J Gaston President and backed by Portland capitalists Ladd Reed & Co, and Bill Newby of Yamhill to fall back on? Why should the people of Portland be disturbed? Surely the gentlemen who made such a lively fight for the interests of Portland in the late election are able to take care of the city

"According to the best of our recollection" says the Albany Democrat Holladay is supposed to own Portland by a large majority" According to the best of our recollection the editor of the Democrat contested for a seat in the legislature from Benton two years ago and after he was voted in by his party, he sold out the interests of his county to the west side and enrolled himself among the number of those supposed to be owned by Holladay A consistent gentleman to slander others on this matter"

Many of the Democratic papers of California are jubilant over the fact that Oregon has been carried on a repudiation platform The Amador Dispatch the San Luis Democrat and the Tuolumne News are among the papers that rejoice in a demonstrative way over the success of repudiation in Oregon,

The only good crops in California this season are in the counties lying in the northern part of the State, which have the benefit of the Oregon climate The wheat fields of three-fourths of California are parched with drought, and the yield is not half an average

Christopher Columbus is about to be entered on the list of Saints Forney's Press nominates Galileo as the next candidate for the honors of canonization Both of them interfered with the Copernican system—only in different ways—and their labor deserves equal appreciation

A Few Questions to West Side Railroad Managers

PORTLAND, June 25th 1870

EDITOR OREGONIAN

A committee was appointed at the West Side Railroad meeting the other night to solicit subscriptions of money to defray the necessary expenses for finishing the grading procurement of ties, etc to render the road bed ready for the iron and rolling stock Now sir as the citizens of this city have already subscribed and paid twenty five thousand dollars and the City Council ten thousand four hundred dollars, all in coin, as Washington county has issued bonds to the Company and has been paying the interest on the same, as Yamhill county has issued bonds also, and as the farmers along the whole line of the road have given lands cattle and produce Messrs Couch & Flanders a princely domain etc etc,—I have no doubt that a majority of those who will be called upon to give their mite towards this enterprise would like to know what has become of all these funds

If the managers of the road have properly used this money and now come before the people for more means the public have a right to require of them a detailed account of all moneys they have received and for what purpose they have applied the same

Of course there are many rumors on the streets as to what has become of money and the lands donated to the O C R R Co, and many persons in consequence do not feel willing to give their aid unless they are assured and satisfied that the money will be used for the purpose it is donated for

I am sure this will not work a hardship to any one and the managers of this enterprise if they are in earnest and have honestly used the funds entrusted to them by a confiding public should esteem it a privilege to give an account of their stewardship so that even they who run may read

It may be said sir that this communication has been indited by some tool of Ben Holladay but sir every thinking business man will see upon reflection that my ideas are correct for if the people of this city are satisfied that the present managers of the west side railroad are entitled to our confidence and it becomes necessary the property holders of Portland will mortgage one half of their real estate to secure the building of the road, and if Ben Holladay or any other man or men should stand in the way they will be ignominiously hurled from the track

The business men of this city are awakening, and will on a second sober thought, see that their affairs are not jeopardized by politicians or schemers If it is an honest deal they will stand by the dealers, if not they will hurl them overboard, and place new but honest persons in the vacant places

Truly Yours PORTLANDER

Fatal Affray in Idaho.

E D HOLBROOK KILLED

On the evening of the 18th inst an affray occurred at Idaho City, resulting in the death of E D Holbrook, formerly member of Congress from Idaho Territory The person at whose hands he met his death is C H Douglas, The affair grew out of politics. Douglas is a brother-in-law of Crutcher, who was the Democratic candidate for Sheriff of Boise county in the late election, but by reason of a quarrel in the party was defeated Holbrook was accused by Douglas of having exerted his influence to defeat Crutcher The following note from Douglas was published in the Idaho World of the 9th inst.

I have seen the cards published by Con Mack or McGillicuddy in the Statesman, and I will say that so far from being a fighter for Mr Crutcher or any one else, I have never had a fight in this Territory, but when any one lies about me, I shall let him know that he does lie I know that Mack's card was gotten up or dictated by E D Holbrook, and I state publicly that the same is false in every particular. I consider that Con Mack was hired to make such a statement or circulate such a report and I believe that E D Holbrook hired him to do so And further, that E D Holbrook stated publicly from the stand that he supported the whole Democratic ticket, when I can prove by affidavits of the best men in the county that he secretly done everything in his power against J I Crutcher and other nominees on the Democratic ticket that Judge E I Beatty charged him from the stand at a public meeting in Pioneer City with being a traitor to the Democratic party "a snake in the grass," that he had been twice honored by the Democratic party with the nomination for delegate to Congress and pledged himself in public speeches to support and work for the whole Democratic ticket and still, secretly and in the dark worked against it, and that said Holbrook has never publicly denied having done so

C H DOUGLAS

IDAHO CITY, I T, June 8 1870

Holbrook, in reply to the above, published the following in the Boise Chronicle of the 15th

ED CHRONICLE —The issue of June 4th of the Idaho World has been handed me at about the time several of their party requested it to be done—one day in advance of its distribution In it I observe the card of one C. H Douglas, and though often assailed through the public press this is the first time I ever replied—for that purpose I solicit a place in your columns I shall not notice but one charge contained in the card, it is the following "I consider that Con Mack was hired to make such statement or circulate such a report and I believe that E D Holbrook hired him to do so" I do not believe that Mr Douglas ever did believe that I hired Con Mack to make the statement or to circulate such a report, but I do believe that when C H Douglas put his name to that card he knew that he was subscribing to a bare faced lie, that he was giving publicity to as low and contemptible a falsehood as ever fell from the lips of man, As to that part of C H Douglas' card that refers to charges made at Pioneer City by E I Beatty against me, I have only to say that Mr Douglas knew very well that I was in Idaho City at that time, and I assert that the first time I ever heard of it was on the following day, when many citizens informed me that Beatty was drunk and not responsible for what he said I presume that Mr Douglas is fully aware that the people of Boise county did not desire the election of J I Crutcher for Sheriff If not I do not see how he is to be enlightened—a majority of nearly four hundred should furnish the desired information It is possible that my efforts defeated Mr Crutcher but in my opinion the conduct of Mr Douglas, in trying to shoot down an unarmed citizen as he was retiring from church—combined with the drunken harangues of E I Beatty, done more to insure his defeat than anything else The public was undoubtedly surprised at the appearance of the card of Mr Douglas, still I do not think that it was without motive and intent I for one at least give him too much credit for general information to think that there is any considerable proportion of the community cares what he thinks or believes about the result of the election I am convinced that he has other and darker motives for thus thrusting himself into public print with his accusations against me and the only favor I have to ask of him his friends and relatives is that they may prove themselves gentlemen not assassins and cowards which their associations and habits show them to be I am sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant E D HOLBROOK

The following is the statement of Con Mack in regard to his action

Con McGillicuddy being first duly sworn says That he has read a card over the signature of C H Douglas, published in the Idaho World of June 4th that in said card Douglas says I believe Con Mack was hired to make such a statement or circulate such a report, and I believe E D Holbrook hired him to do so Affiant stated that he came to E D Holbrook to draw an affidavit for this affiant to swear to intending to employ and pay him for so doing, that Mr Holbrook declined stating that no good would come of it that he then asked Mr Holbrook to assist E Miller Esq in drawing his statement offering at the same time pay for so doing Affiant states that he was dissuaded by Mr Holbrook from making the affidavit and that after the statement had been drawn as aforesaid at his request by Mr Miller and Holbrook, that Judges Sayles and Mr Holbrook requested him not to publish the same, that he was not hired by Mr Holbrook nor any other person, to make that statement or circulate that report Affiant further states that both Mr. Douglas and Holbrook never had money enough to buy him for any such purpose CON McGILLICUDDY

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of June, 1870 A O BOWEN,
Justice of the Peace

There was talk of a duel at first to settle the affair but a meeting was not arranged On the evening of the 18th, Douglas came past Holbrook's office in front of which Holbrook was sitting quietly and attempted to strike him with a cane Pistols were instantly drawn by both parties and several shots fired Holbrook received a ball through the abdomen and died the following morning Douglas, who is said to have fired the first shot, is reported to have been hit but not seriously injured Great excitement prevailed about the affair

GOOD [illegible] —The [illegible] thinks that [illegible] not getting [illegible] why There [illegible] west side of the Willamette [illegible] the hope of becoming connected [illegible] by railroad [illegible] navigated by a community [illegible] A railroad on the east side will be mighty apt to have a connection [illegible] Then it is possible to [illegible] bridge that [illegible] East Portland will [illegible] contemplated [illegible] of rats and Humans of the east side and [illegible] the corporation will be amended [illegible] which suggests to us [illegible] that there is more chance of Portland swallowing up East Portland than that the latter will empty the tenements of the former

[illegible] —We have received a catalogue of the [illegible] for the year ending July 1 1870 The [illegible] students show as follows in the several departments Senior Class 5 Middle Class [illegible] Junior 21 Preparatory 24 Primary 36 Total [illegible] The Graduates are Miss Maria Ella Whipple and Mr Jerome Smith The Faculty are Rev [illegible] Smith Principal Mrs E J Rice Preceptress Mr [illegible] Smith Assistant Mrs Margaret Jaggy Teacher of German The calendar for the year to begin following is [illegible] First Term begins Sept. 5 1870—ends Nov 11 1870 Second Term begins Nov 14 1870—ends Jan 27 1871 Vacation of one week during the holidays Third Term begins Jan 30 1871 ends April 14 1871 Fourth Term begins April 17 1871 ends June 30 1871 Written or oral examinations the two last days of each Term Closing Exercises June 30 1871 Annual meeting of Trustees June 30 1871

THE MAN DROWNED AT CATHLAMET —The Herald of yesterday had the following letter from Mr R G Aldrich concerning the body found in the river near Cathlamet Head a few days ago "I promised in my last letter of the 20th to give you the verdict of the Coroner's inquest on the body of the man I found, but up to this time the Coroner has not made his appearance, nor the Justice from Westport who I also informed personally The body appears to be that of a man about 40 years old five feet ten inches high. The only clothing he had on at the time he was found was a pair of pants one with a portion of the legs cut off and a new pair of boots with copper soles. It is supposed that the body had been in the water for two or three weeks There is no missing from this neighborhood
Yours etc., R G ALDRICH"

BURLESQUE TO-NIGHT —The play announced for this evening is the Burlesque Extravaganza of The Lady of Lyons—one of the most laughable pieces ever put on our stage The cast for to-night is one of the [illegible] on record—Melville for Pauline Vinson Mme Deschappelles Annie Pixley Claude Minnie Pixley, Gaspar, Lizzie Ingles Beauseant and the rest of the cast in proportion If there is not fun in store for to-night, then we cannot remember an occasion when there was such a thing as a symptom of coming merriment Those who can't laugh without going into a fit of apoplexy should by all means buy tickets for an excursion out of town, and avoid the theater

SCHOOL FOR BOYS —There will be a meeting of gentlemen to confer with Bishop Morris on the subject of opening in September in this city a high grade school for boys The meeting will take place this evening in the vestry of Trinity church corner of Oak and Second streets at 8 o'clock All who feel an interest in the establishment of such a school are cordially invited to be present Bishop Morris Rev W H Stoy and others will speak.

ORO FINO THEATER —There was a first-rate audience out Saturday night at Oro Fino to witness the beautiful tragic drama of The Corsican Brothers It was very well mounted and gave very good satisfaction Mr Vinson played the principal parts of the brothers Franchi in his usual finished manner "Pillicoddy" was the afterpiece in which Mr Bates created great laughter A rousing bill is offered for this evening

ANOTHER FIZZLE —The meeting called at the Council Chamber Saturday evening to make arrangements for celebrating the 4th of July, was another fizzle But few attended and nothing was done We judge now, inasmuch as there is not time to get up a creditable celebration, that the matter will be allowed to rest quietly Portland is decidedly not strong on the celebrations this year

ADJOURNED —In consequence of bad weather, the Spiritualists' grove meeting at Butteville on Friday was rather a wet affair and after electing a presiding officer and secretaries the Society adjourned [illegible] the 9th of September next Mr D H Hendee of this city was elected presiding officer and [illegible] and Benj Todd also of this city were chosen secretaries

MORE LOCOMOTIVES —We learn that three new locomotives for the Oregon and California Railroad were started from Philadelphia on the [illegible] overland to San Francisco They are much larger and stronger engines than those already here Their names are Willamette, Oregon and Albany It is expected that they will arrive here during July

TILLAMOOK EXPRESS —It will be seen by advertisement that Mr W[illegible] Squires has established a passenger express line between this city and Tillamook [illegible]

[illegible]

FALLING —The Columbia river is now steadily falling and [illegible] there will be no further rise this season

PEWS TO BE RENTED —The annual renting of pews in Trinity Church will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock and Commission.

I. Pittock vs J. P. O. Lownsdale et al; order of publication ordered.

Court adjourned until Monday morning at nine o'clock.

GOOD REASONS.—The Statesman reasonably thinks that in spite of the croakings of a certain paper published here, Portland will not go to grass just yet, and gives as reasons why: "There is an extensive country upon the west side of the Columbia river that cherishes the hope of becoming connected with Portland by railroad; a river commanded by the wharves which is navigated by steamers and boats, and the grain of the cow counties and the stock and the timber will come down the stream with ease. A railroad on the east side will be mighty apt to have a connection with Oregon City town, in the hope to do a trifle more business by that means. Then it is possible to bridge that river, and whoever tries to build up East Portland will want the bridge in place and in working order to facilitate the contemplated transfer of rails and humans to the east side, and before that time, the corporation will be amended to include East Portland, which suggests to us that there is more chance of Portland swallowing East Portland than that the latter will empty [illegible] of the former."

PORTLAND SEMINARY.—We have received a catalogue of this institution for the year ending July, 1870. The list of students show as follows in the several departments: Senior Class, 8; Middle Class, 7; Junior, 21; Preparatory, 24; Primary, 34, Total, 94. The Graduates are Miss Ella Whipple and Mr. Jerome Smith. The faculty are Rev. Clark Smith, Principal; Mrs. E. J. Ross, Preceptress; Mr. Col. Smith, Assistant; Mr. Emanuel Jaggy, Teacher of German. The following is the Calendar for the year to begin Sept. 5, 1870: First Term begins Sept. 5, 1870—ends Nov. 11, 1870. Second Term begins Nov. 14, 1870—ends Jan. 27, 1871. Vacation of one week during the holidays. Third Term begins Jan. 30, 1871, ends April 14, 1871. Fourth Term begins April 17, 1871—ends June 30, 1871. Written examinations the two last days of each term. Closing Exercises June 30, 1871. Annual meeting of Trustees, June 30, 1871.

BODY DROWNED AT CATHLAMET.—The [illegible] day had the following letter from [illegible] concerning the body found in [illegible] Cathlamet Head, a few days ago. [illegible] my last letter of the 20th to give [illegible] of the Coroner's inquest on the body [illegible] found, but up to this time the [illegible] made his appearance, nor the [illegible] Westport, who I also informed personally. The body appears to be that of a man [illegible] years old, five feet ten inches high. The [illegible] had on at the time he was found [illegible] pair of pantaloons with a portion of the [illegible] new pair of boots with copper [illegible] that the body had been in [illegible] two or three weeks. There is no [illegible] this neighborhood.

R. G. ALDRICH."

[illegible]—The play announced [illegible] the Burlesque Extravaganza of [illegible] one of the most laughable [illegible] upon any stage. The cast for to-night [illegible] of the [illegible] on record—Melville for [illegible] Mme. Deschappelles; Annie [illegible]; Minnie Pixley, Gaspar; Lizzie [illegible]; and the rest of the cast in [illegible]. If there is not fun in store for to-[illegible] that we cannot remember an occasion when [illegible] as a symptom of coming [illegible]. Those who can't laugh without going [illegible] should by all means buy [illegible] excursion out of town, and avoid the [illegible].

SCHOOL FOR BOYS.—There will be a meeting of [illegible] to confer with Bishop Morris on [illegible] of opening in September in this [illegible] grade school for boys. The meeting [illegible] this evening in the vestry of Trinity [illegible], corner of Oak and Second streets at [illegible]. All who feel an interest in the establishment of such a school are cordially invited to [illegible]. Bishop Morris, Rev. W. H. Stoy [illegible] will speak.

THE THEATER.—There was a first-rate [illegible] Saturday night at Oro Fino to witness the [illegible] tragic drama of "The Corsican [illegible]. It was very well mounted and gave [illegible] satisfaction. Mr. Vinson played the [illegible] parts of the brothers Franchi, in his [illegible] manner. "Pillicoddy" was the [illegible] in which Mr. Bates created great [illegible]. A strong bill is offered for this evening.

[illegible].—The meeting called at the [illegible] Saturday evening to make arrangements for celebrating the 4th of July, was [illegible] few attended and nothing [illegible]. We trust now, inasmuch as there is [illegible] to get up a creditable celebration, that [illegible] will be allowed to rest quietly. Portland is [illegible] not strong on the celebrate, this year.

[illegible].—In consequence of bad weather, the Spiritual Grove meeting at Butteville on Friday was rather a slim affair, and after electing a [illegible] officers and Secretaries, the Society adjourned the meeting to the 9th of September next. Dr. D. H. Hendee of this city was elected president, and A. T. Gross and Benj. Todd, also of this city, were chosen Secretaries.

NEW LOCOMOTIVES COMING.—We learn that [illegible] new locomotives for the Oregon and California Railroad, were started from Philadelphia on the 17th inst, overland to San Francisco. They are much larger and finer engines than those already here. Their names are Wallamet, Oregon, and Albany. It is expected that they will arrive here during July.

[illegible] EXPRESS.—It will be seen by advertisement that Mr. William Squires has established a passenger express between this city and Tillamook. This will be a great convenience to many going coastward, and we doubt not many will take advantage of it to visit that beautiful portion of Oregon during the present summer.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF ASSOCIATION.—Pursuant to notice, the subscribers to the Firemen's Relief Association held a meeting Saturday evening. The committee appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws submitted a report which was considered in part, and the Association adjourned to meet again Tuesday evening, the 28th.

CIRCUS COMING.—The Commercial of Saturday evening has this cheerful item for the boys: "We learn that Bartholomew's Miniature Circus, and Madam Minnetta's troupe of Lilliputs and performing animals are now performing in Southern Oregon, and coming this way. They gave a performance at Roseburg last week. They will be here in the course of a few weeks."

PORT OF ENTRY.—A letter from Senator Corbett states that the bill to create the Wallamet Customs District, and to make Portland a Port of Entry, has passed both Houses and become a law. Senator Corbett has worked untiringly for this measure, and has achieved a thing which will be of great advantage to Portland.

STILL DETAINED.—From passengers from Astoria Saturday evening we learn that the Live Yankee is still detained in the Columbia river. She is anchored near Sand Island, awaiting favorable winds, the captain refusing to employ the steam tug.

FALLING.—The Columbia river is now steadily falling, and it is probable that there will be no further rise this season.

PEWS TO BE RENTED.—The annual renting of pews in Trinity Church will take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

FROM THE RAILROAD CAMPS.—A private note from one of the camps near Molalla says that bridging is going on lively, and that if there is not too much rain the work will be completed ready for track laying to Molalla by the 4th of July.

WHEAT FOR LIVERPOOL.—We learn that the ship Harmon Doctor, lately from China, is to take a cargo of wheat for Liverpool. One of the vessels now en route from Europe with railroad iron, is also expected to load with wheat for same destination.

SALMON FOR HONOLULU.—We learn that Mr. R. G. Aldrich, of the State Rights Fishery, on the Columbia, has received an order for two hundred and fifty barrels salmon for a firm at Honolulu, and that he will ship out by the Jenkinsburg.

BOY SENT TO JAIL.—On Saturday, a boy named John Dale was up before the Recorder for stealing a pair of pants from a private lodging room. He was convicted and sentenced to confinement for thirty days in the city jail.

SPECIAL SALE OF FURNITURE.—Mr. A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, will sell at ten o'clock to-day, at the corner of Third and Jefferson streets, some parlor and bedroom sets, kitchen furniture, etc.

PERSONAL.—Capt. Dick Hoyt has just returned from a jaunt to Victoria. We are indebted to him for a bundle of late newspapers from Victoria and the Sound.

DROPPED DOWN THE RIVER.—The ship Heatha went down the river on Saturday. She will load at St. Helens with lumber for Callao, South America.

PICNIC POSTPONED.—The Emmet Guard's annual picnic is postponed, in consequence of unfavorable weather, till Sunday, July 3d.

INSANE.—A man named Geo. Wilson, was, on Saturday, adjudged to be insane and was sent to the asylum at East Portland.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

The Cincinnati Chronicle says that "Free Trade had its origin in this country simultaneously with Nullification and Secession."

The Wisconsin State Temperance Society held its annual meeting in Milwaukee on Tuesday, and voted to hold a mass Convention in the same city on the 8th of September, to consider the advisability of organizing a Temperance political party.

The Chicago Republican says of the Oregon election: The election in Oregon has resulted in a Republican gain on the popular vote of about 800 since the last election, when the Democratic majority was 1,200. It is now reported at 400. A few more such Democratic victories will make that State one of the most reliable Republican States in the Union.

The Missouri Republican State Committee has issued an address directing the election of congress[ional] district, county and township committees, in accordance with the plan of organization adopted by the Republicans of the State in 1868, to which they were largely indebted for their magnificent victory in that year. The plan provided for the election of those committees every two years.

Democratic fault finding is so habitual that it is hard to calculate where it will outcrop. Some of the papers are particularly venomous because Secretary Boutwell paid off fourteen millions of the public debt during the month of May. At this rate what will they say a few years hence when the whole debt is wiped out? It is going at the rate of about one hundred millions a year so far.

Railroads.

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel.]

On our outside will be found a letter from Hon Joseph Smith to B. J. Pengra, about the amendment of Senator Williams to the Humboldt Railroad. It was published before the election in the Portland Herald, and extensively circulated in the Wallamet valley, to the prejudice of the Republican candidates for the Legislature, who, it was supposed, would vote to make Mr. Williams Senator for six years longer. It is said to be one of the main causes of the defeat of one Republican in Washington county, [this is an error; it was disgust at Gaston's humbug operations that produced this result, though the member elect is a reliable Republican.—ED. OREGONIAN] and that it also assisted to the defeat of the Republicans in Polk county.

It is natural for the people on the west side of the Wallamet river to sympathize with the road to Eugene and thence across the Cascade mountains at the head of the Wallamet river; and it is equally as natural for the people of Douglas, Josephine and Jackson counties to be in favor of the amendment, because it is to their interest to have the road come into Rogue River valley, and from there to Crescent City. Yet the people of these counties appear to be wholly blinded by their party prejudices, or ignorant of their interest and the whole of Southern Oregon. They richly deserve never to have a railroad. They ought to be compelled to ride mules and white-eyed cayuses as long as they live.

Mr. Smith gives Huntington as authority that no company will build the road to Rogue River. This is a great mistake. We have it from the richest capitalists of New York, and from those who are well acquainted with the building of railroads, that plenty of money can be raised on the land grant to build the road. Huntington is the Vice President of the Central Pacific Railroad, and they have a controling interest in the Oregon and California Railroad, south of the Oregon line, and they wish to control the road, and throw obstacles in Holladay & Co.'s way, so that they will be unable to build the part of the road south of Eugene.

Huntington is a live man, and he is looking after his interest, and the interest of the California company. It was the duty of Senator Williams to look after the interest of Oregon, and to check these great California monopolists. The Democratic cry is, Holladay & Co. are monopolists. A company that controls half the road across the continent, and more than half the road from San Francisco to Portland, is more to be dreaded than Holladay & Co., who only own the land grant from Portland to the California line.

Tilton is a partner of Ladd, the Portland banker, and they are large stockholders in the west side railroad, and in the celebrated Pengra Road Company, who own the land on the route from the north-east end of Goose Lake nearly to Eugene City.

But Mr. Smith prefers the road from Humboldt to Eugene because it would give them two competing lines in the Wallamet. The competition would only be from Eugene to Portland. On this part of the route there is water navigation which will always keep the railroad at reasonable rates. We do not ask for competition at present, but we want to be sure of one road, before we assist a California company to run a road through sage brush and on pumice stone, to avoid and to prevent an Oregon Company from building a road through Umpqua and Rogue river valleys.

The road up the Wallamet is only advocated by those in the interest of the California company and the Pengra wagon road company. There is no one on the route to be accommodated or benefited, that would not be equally benefited by its coming into Rogue River valley, except those on the waters of the Wallamet river. The balance of the route to Klamath Marsh is on the top of the Cascade Mountains, covered with sand, ashes and pumice stone. It is wholly unfit for grazing or agricultural purposes. Smith, Corbett and Williams, should all look to the interest of the whole people of Oregon, and not alone to the interest of the California railroad company and the Pengra wagon road company.

ANNUAL LETTING OF PEWS.—The re-letting of Pews in Trinity Church for the coming year will take place in the church to-day (27th inst.) between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock P. M.

An additional lot of those handsome suits worn by everybody, both heavy and light weight, was received by Kohn & Fishel, No 91 Front street. The Popular Tonic of the Age.

The day has gone by when a medicine without merit could command and retain the confidence of the world. Advertising induces the public to try many things, but in this shrewd and thoughtful age, words will not suffice, without proofs, and it is by the exercise of their private judgment, men determine the relative value of the various articles recommended to their notice through the business columns of newspapers. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has now been subjected to this searching ordeal for more than eighteen years, and the result is that it stands at the head of the class of remedies to which it belongs. It has distanced and lived down innumerable competitors, and is to-day the standard Tonic of the Western world. The happy effects which have followed its use in cases of dyspepsia, biliousness, nervous affections, intermittent fevers and general debility, and as a constitutional invigorant, have entitled it to universal confidence. Nothing can ever shake its reputation, for it is based on the individual experiences of tens of thousands of witnesses embracing prominent and well known citizens of every profession, occupation and class. There is not a city, town or settlement in the United States where it is not a medicinal staple. No druggist or general dealer would consider his stock complete without it. The returns of the internal revenue department show that its sales exceed those of any other proprietary restorative manufactured on this side the Atlantic. The beneficial results derived during a long series of years from the use of Hostetter's Bitters, have convinced the whole community that the only true way to restore to health a broken down or debilitated system, or to put the human body on its defence when exposed to unwholesome influences, is to invigorate, regulate and purify it at one and the same time.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

Don't follow blind Guides.—The sick never lack advisers. Every friend has some new remedy to propose. The result is that the stomach of many an invalid is converted into a sort of medicinal cess pool, to which powerful drugs are continually seething and fermenting. The effect of this experimental treatment in dyspepsia and bilious complaints is frightful. The simpler the medicine the more ready it assimilates with the animal fluids, and of all preparations in use for indigestion and biliousness, TARRANT'S EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT, prepared after Nature's formula, and absolutely identical with the water of the famous German Spa, is indisputably the best.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Farm for Sale.
320 ACRES OF LAND, IN JACKSON COUNTY, for sale or exchange for city property. It is in the suburbs of Gasburg. Gasburg, like the beaver, is all "terminus." The branch of the Central Pacific Railroad will intersect the Oregon and California road at Gasburg. The Oregon Central will run through it, as does the stage road now, and many a railroad as yet unthought of, will find its "terminus" in Gasburg. The warm and dry winters, the mild Italian summers, the gushing spring water at short intervals, the lofty peaks of the Cascades on the east, the Coast Range on the west, the broad and fertile valleys on the north and south, and last, but not least, the inexhaustible forests on every hand, make it naturally one of the finest "terminuses" that ever was attached onto the "tother end" of any railroad. Also a one-third interest in a water-ditch and forty acres of mining lands, which have been worked for some years and never failed to pay a dividend.
Strawberries 5 cts per pound, ONE MULE at 20 cts per pound, and groceries in proportion.

What Henry Ward Beecher thinks of Charles Dickens

[illegible] in the Church, Brooklyn, last evening [illegible] and gained as [illegible] popularity as [illegible] the question was Dickens a Christian [illegible] He could not make an answer. He was [illegible] think that a man who [illegible] household and every family exercised a beneficent influence [illegible] thought of him with great [illegible] till [illegible] with any [illegible] He [illegible]

Mr Beecher said that [illegible] as they had sustained would produce [illegible] feeling of personal loss than any that [illegible] occurred since the death of Walter Scott. Dickens was [illegible] was a man with [illegible] man feeling [illegible] that [illegible] used the pen [illegible] right call the great [illegible] the human mind. Whether [illegible] man in the experimental [illegible] knew. He could speak about his personal private life. He thought that it was a difficult matter to decide. When a man was brought up under different circumstances and in different institutions from our own, they would be apt to apparently differ and they would be hardly recognized from [illegible] were influenced by some men whom it was very difficult to appraise or classify [illegible] say whether they were a little nearer that or this [illegible] whether they were truly Christian [illegible] He recollected that his father had great [illegible] one time as to the Christian life and character of Bishop Heber in Germany, and expressed his doubts therefor, but no one [illegible] ration would entertain [illegible] for [illegible] ment.

Mr. Dickens was in our church [illegible] twice, and went to [illegible] dered his testimony to the many advantages which they possessed, and he wrote him a letter in which he said "Don't build another church: you will never get another like it." He meant of course the peculiar domestic properties and conveniences here to be found.

Mr. Dickens has accomplished more than any man in his life work [illegible] out any instructive Christian [illegible] and the results attendant [illegible] far different from those of Bulwer and Byron. His writings did not teach pride and certainly had no tendency toward [illegible] tions, but the generic influences of his writings were to make man pure and more humane, and to render the household happy and contented. His did not [illegible] was a line to be found in his writings that would tend to produce licentiousness or dissipation. On the single [illegible] I would make an exception. He [illegible] that ground upon which [illegible] dence is already operating. He belonged to the old school who [illegible] ancient principles, and he was glad that the old school was passing away. Dickens was a great benefactor of his race though he was not engaged in a higher sphere [illegible] the spiritual element. God has given him [illegible] in his work—such success that was seldom vouchsafed to others similarly engaged. He devoted his life to the amelioration of the human race, and he accomplished good in this respect. We must be grateful to God for what he has done. What he did he did well and he has passed off the stage in [illegible] in the full enjoyment of his faculties. Charles Dickens is a man who is entitled to the highest and noblest honor and is entitled to be reckoned amongst the best [illegible]

The Italian Revolutionary Movements.—The Florence correspondent of the London News explains the political aspect of the late movements in Italy, which he says have a better title than some of the others to receive a Garibaldian designation, for their leader Galliani was for several years Garibaldi's cook, having served him in that capacity both during his retreat at Caprera and on his two last expeditions. The correspondent attributes the uprisings to the restless activity of the Italian idlers, says:

I should not feel at all surprised if these insurrectionary movements led to a strong reaction, and if the individuals taking part in them were summarily knocked on the head by the contadini. There is a marked tendency in the country to look for its improvement and prosperity in the natural and legitimate process of honest hearty work in every branch of trade and agriculture. The Italian people at the present moment, are beyond all question much ahead both of their constitutional representatives in the National Senate and of their illegal unconstitutional self constituted representatives in these guerrilla risings. They are decidedly opening their eyes to the true causes of the national weakness and poverty. Not long ago Gen Bixio addressed a most remarkable letter to the public journals in which he stated the astounding fact that 37 per cent of the entire Italian population have no regular occupation. When it is remembered that in all the other European States according to the statistics collected by the Swiss Government the non working population do not anywhere form more than 7 per cent,—in Great Britain they do not amount to 5; that in the United States of America they do not constitute so much as 1 per cent,—the statement made by Gen Bixio is well [illegible] ing of most serious consideration by all who take a real interest in Italian affairs.

The New System of Telegraphy.—A gentleman of this city has received a circular from the President of the Aesthetic Intelligencer's Association of [illegible] Ills, with a request that he co-operate with the objects of the association, doubtless with the intention of establishing a branch office here. The circular first sets forth that "the friends of progress and science having discovered that a knowing, obeying and correctly applying natural laws, intelligence may be transmitted without the aid and with as great celerity [illegible] as it is possible to be transmitted by the operation of the electro magnetic telegraph wires."

The modus operandi in other words the transmitting of intelligence through [illegible] local or spiritual agencies. The [illegible] as we understand it must necessarily [illegible] dium.

Of all the new fangled notions, ideas and suggestions to simplify telegraphing and render it a cheaper medium for the transmission of words and ideas this strikes us as the most original. There will be no expense [illegible] to maintain no telegraph wires to keep in order at great expense [illegible] no delays from the breakage of wires and telegraphing will be as cheap as letter writing. The circular does not state [illegible] the company is a stock company [illegible] it recommends itself as [illegible] gentleman in this city says [illegible] system operated [illegible] Saginaw to Boston and an answer returned inside of fifteen minutes. It may [illegible] at some day that every [illegible] man can be an operator [illegible] patches free of cost, thus defrauding the Government out of postage and effectually crushing out existing telegraph companies and the telegraph. State Daily Courier.

It is stated that Dickens had completed six monthly numbers of his latest story, "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," and that the whole of the tale is so far outlined as to indicate the plot. This will be good news to all lovers of his writings. The story was intended to occupy twelve monthly parts, so that half of it is completed. It is said that the task of finishing it from the outlines of the remaining portion will be entrusted to Wilkie Collins, who wrote the Christmas story entitled "No Thoroughfare" in conjunction with Dickens, and who has acquired a great similarity of style to that of the deceased author. It is a most satisfaction to know that the Mystery stands a fair chance of being revealed even though the revelation will not be made by the master hand that framed the plot.

The Secretary of War has written that the Jeff Davis mansion used as military headquarters in Richmond, Va, will be given up to the city authorities as soon as they officially give notice that they relinquish all claims for rent, etc.

CURRENT NOTES

One of the latest notions is to have the birth card ra[illegible] among a wedding card, [illegible] the name of the new comer and the date of its advent with the names of its parents.

Brigham Young having become tired of so many false reports circulating about him, says that he is aged [illegible] and has sixteen wives and forty [illegible] children only.

[illegible] the gifts of Charles Dickens which will always tell [illegible] $1[illegible] to [illegible] expend [illegible] the [illegible] of the [illegible]

The [illegible] of June 13th has this: The railroad war between Gould and Vanderbilt is a very comfortable arrangement for Western interests, and our people hope they will fight it out on that line if it takes them [illegible] years. As far as has appeared the quarrel has no intrinsic merits on either side. Every few months the principals get by the ears and take it out by giving the public cheaper freight and fare. This is a truly [illegible] ble and commendable form of revenge, and all the sins of both companies shall be forgiven if they will keep on doing so. The whole West will on [illegible] guaranteeing that much.

From the San Francisco Commercial Herald of June 7th we take the following extracts:

Imports during the week have been [illegible] cluding [illegible] Coal and divers [illegible] of British and Foreign merchandise, besides 300 [illegible] Japan Tea, 450 bales Manila Hemp, 1,560 bags Sugar, and other Oriental merchandise ex Great Republic, 1,334 passengers—mostly Chinese—came by the steamer or The steamship Montana from Panama brought up a full [illegible] of assorted merchandise from New York and elsewhere, including 123 bags new crop Coffee. The Mary Taylor from Oregon had in Treasure $46,923, besides [illegible] bbls Flour, 2,172 pkgs Salmon, 621 [illegible] Eggs, 95 bxes Wool, 414 [illegible] bbls Dried Apples, 312 sks Oats, etc. The overland carrying trade is daily increasing in volume; passengers and merchandise go both east and west with remarkable speed and safety, which in time promises to revolutionize the old modes of conveyance.

Our exports otherwise than [illegible] largely of Wool, Wheat and Wine and, judging from present indications, they promise to be at least equal to [illegible] last year—thus giving assurance of increased prosperity to the Pacific Slope.

Business has of late assumed a more cheerful aspect. Improved crop prospects give impetus to trade in many leading departments. Stocks of many descriptions of imports (that have long been excessively burdensome) [illegible] being worked off, exported or consumed, and in various ways [illegible] a more healthful tone in commercial circles. Money is easy and readily obtainable at fair rates for all legitimate business purposes [illegible] markets for ruling import staples, we remark a better feeling in Coffee [illegible] tendency in values. Coffee is held with increased confidence, stocks moderate. Sugars are the [illegible] both for Raws and Refined. Teas move off rapidly [illegible] other imported wines are [illegible] the late [illegible] offering is being [illegible] made at enhanced rates.

The receipts of certain articles of Oregon produce from January 1st to date have been as follows: Flour, [illegible] qr sks [illegible] wheat sks 39,260, oats sks 13 [illegible] Salmon bbls 685, hf bbls 1,183, cases 3,064, [illegible] bacon pkgs 3,158, beef bbls 60, butter pkgs 908, hams pkgs 446, lard pkgs 1,010, pork bbls 2,833, dried apples pkgs 1,67[illegible]

We are beginning to receive the first installment of the new crop, and judging from the quality of the surplus exhibited, the quality at least will be superior to that of last year. Opinions widely differ as to the whole yield of the State, yet a weight of testimony goes to show that our surplus breadstuff for export, including Oregon supplies, will be considerably variously estimated from 50,000 tons upward—possibly one-fourth less than last year. This is certainly well, after the terrible scare which became quite chronic a month since, and which drove many farmers in their despair to cut their growing grain for hay, rather than run the risk of a dry season. It is now asserted that thousands of wheat acres have been cut for hay, which would have given average yields of merchantable grain. One cause given for this was the prevailing impression that hay would be scarce and high, and perhaps pay better than wheat. Quite a contrary opinion now prevails, and many sincerely regret the act. A private letter just received from New York says: "The croakers will insist that you Californians must go hungry for bread. Private cable dispatches and letters give rather gloomy accounts of the French and English crops, which have suffered for dry [illegible] The best of feed and food is liable [illegible] here look for good prices next season, and I think California will make more money than ever for their Wheat, unless they go crazy again, as in 1868." The New York Shipping List and Prices Current, in a well considered editorial upon the breadstuffs trade, says that Continental buyers are turning their attention to American supplies, competing here with English buyers. Large orders have been received from leading Continental markets lately, and although most of them are limited [illegible] the shipments to Havre, Antwerp and Hamburg have been larger during the last fortnight than for a like period for many years, and there is now a fair prospect of a continued good export trade during the summer months. That our ability to meet a large demand is equal to that of last year when the movement [illegible] may be remembered was exceptionally large, there can be no doubt. Owing to the low prices of Wheat which have prevailed since last harvest, the farmers have been in no hurry to market the crops. But now, with the cheerless and unfavorable crop prospects ahead, supplies are coming forward in large volume. On the 7th of May the total supply of Wheat in store in the principal markets and afloat for tide water was [illegible] 816 bushels. At the same time the supply had been up to 600,655 bushels [illegible] further rise in prices the quantity [illegible] will most likely be considerably augmented between now and the commencement of harvest operations, from which the interior transportation, the shipping and milling interests, and the foreign exchanges must be favorably affected. Taking the country at large we have much to believe that an increased number of acres have been sown and, if no untoward events shall occur, we may well assume that our valleys and plains will send us such a bounteous harvest. As agricultural prosperity underlies all [illegible] the people certainly have every reason to feel encouraged by the present auspicious promise.

Direct Trade with New York

J M Keeler of the Oregon and N W Commission Agency and Produce Exchange writes under date of June 10th that recent arrangements enable him to make advances [illegible] Oregon [illegible] wheat, flour [illegible] he firmly believes he can take a good [illegible] proposed (with the advantage of going on [illegible] quantity) that has ever yet been done for any Oregon brand, and in the end guarantee that Oregon [illegible] understood as an integral part of California. He proposes to make Oregon products [illegible] the Northwest, Washington Territory, &c a specialty, by establishing wholesale and retail trade with [illegible] dealers [illegible]

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. [illegible] Established in 1854 for the treatment of [illegible] and Seminal Diseases [illegible] all the forms [illegible] Skin Diseases [illegible] successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female [illegible] a miserable existence [illegible] absorbed into the system [illegible] that pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life [illegible] situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians [illegible] any of these horrible soul destroying maladies—see that they are [illegible] cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Dr. Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases a special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are [illegible] welfare [illegible] the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry [illegible] you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequences of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures [illegible] sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and attacks of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained [illegible] apply immediately either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written agreement binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, by [illegible] registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus diplomas [illegible] dupe the unwary [illegible] found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco [illegible] are tradesmen and became too lazy to work [illegible] makers [illegible] newspaper carriers [illegible] office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their names [illegible] Look at the Directory for 1862 [illegible] 1863 [illegible] to avoid imposition [illegible] will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets [illegible] advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus; there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are.
